Free Compulsory Education

TARGET DATE TO BE EXTENDED

The Union Government, it is learnt are considering the question of amending the Constitution regarding the provision of universal free and compulsory education up to 14 years of age before January 26, 1960.

As the present target seemed to be unattainable, it is suggested that an attempt be made to realise it in a pearid of 15 to 20 years. But the immediate objective should be the introduction of universal, free and compulsory education up to the age of 11. It is stated that the percentage of boys attending school in the age group 6-14 in 1956-57 was about 57 while the percentage of girls of the same age group was only about 23. In the age group 13-14, the percentage of boys attending schools was about 30 but the percentage of girls was only about 8.

MYSORE BLOCK'S ACHIEVEMENT

Mysore, Aug. 13

The Community Development Block in Hunsur has shown the way to encourage reading habit in rural areas. A circulating library in the block is being taken at regular intervals to each of its 154 villages in rotation.

The Hunsur Community Development Block had initially only 35 small Libraries located in scattered areas.

Due to want of funds, it was not possible to equip each village with a Library and a way had to be found by which all the villages in the Block could utilise existing facilities to the maximum.

To start with, 15 boxes, each consisting of 50 books, were given to every Gram Sevak for keeping one in each village in his ciricle for a mouth. At the end of this period, the boxes were to be interchanged between villages. Five boxes were to serve as supplementary supply.

A "mother" Library has been set up at the block headquarters to act as a feeder to the mobile Libraries. The total number of books available for circulation was about 3,300, costing nearly Rs. 1,750.

with the growth of reading habit, voluntary contributions from the people, in the form of an anna or two, trickled in. These by now have totalled upto about Rs: 2,340. Nearly 1,300 books have been added. Books received as gift number 350.

The enthusiasm and the interest among the people in newly-created library movement is sustained by encouraging competitions at regular intervals. Prizes are awarded to those villages which utilise the books to the maximum People themselves have donated shields for this purpose.

No Muslim League In Mysore

-WARNS NOOR HUSSAIN

Mysore, Aug. 18

Mr. Mir Noor Hussain, leader of the United Civic Party has strongly protested against the move of Mr. Mohamed Ismail, President of All-India Muslim League in nominationg a committee to organise Muslim League in Mysore State.

In a statement he says "We had no quarrel with Mohamad Ismail so long his activities did not reach our boundaries, because we thought that it was the business of the people whom he confused and confounded to pay him his due. But now that he intends to extend his undesirable activities to Mysore State, we want him to note that if Mr. Mohammad Ismail thinks that the Muslim League policy could be propagated in Mysore State, he is sadly mistaken.

In the name of the Muslims of Mysore, I would call upon Mr. Mohamad Ismail to refrain from misleading the Mysore Muslims. The Muslims in Mysore have long forgotten communal organisations like the Muslim League and would be happy if Mohammad Ismail does not stir the calm political waters of Mysore."

REGIONAL SEMINAR ON SCHOOL BUILDINGS INAUGURATED

Mysore, Aug 19

Inaugurating the regional Seminar on "Planning Functional Schools for India", here this morning, Sri D.I. Lal, Assistant Advisor to the Union Ministry of Education stated that the object of the Seminar was to focus attention on the problems of planning schools, increasing their functional utility, making them attractive and beautiful and also reducing the cost of construction and maintenance to the minimum.

The four-day Seminar is attended by the representatives of Mysore, Andhra Pradesh, Kerala and Pondicherry and held at Sri Ramakrishna Ashrama High School.

Sri Lal said a school building project was not and could not be the sole concern of educationist, architect or engineer. It was the outcome of co-operative effort of these experts and hence a close colloboration between these agencies was essential to produce useful results. Here he emphasised the need for effecting maximum economy in the construction of school buildings because our resources were limited.

Sri Lal referred to the directive laid down in the Constitution regarding free and compulsory education for all children up to the age of 14 and said the total number of children in the age group of 6-14 was 7.5 crores. Out of this, only 3 crores were actually at school at the end of the first Plan period. So out of every 5 children of school-going age, they could accommodate only 2. In Mysore State they had to provide accommodation for 22.3 lakhs out of 41 lakhs children.

Messages received by Messrs. S.G. Saiydain, J M. Raijhwani and P. D. Shukla were read.

Patels & Shanbhogs Offices Of Profit

SUPREME COURT RULING

The Supreme Court upheld yesterday the validity of the election of Sri M. Ramappa to the Mysore State Legislative Assembly from Harihar constituency in the last General Elections.

During the scrutiny of the nomination papers, the Returning officer had rejected the mominations of Messrs. Hanumanthappa, Siddapppa and Guru Rao for election from the Harihar Constituency on the ground that the first two of them were Patels and the third a Shanbhog and as such were holders of offices of profit. The Election Tribunal had upheld this decision of the Returning Officer on an election petition. But the High Court of Mysore held that the posts they held were not offices of profit and the election of Sri Ramappa as void. The Supreme Court, on appeal, set aside the High Court order, observing that Patels and Shanbhogs held offices of profit under the Government.

Majlese's Services Praised

GOLDEN JUBILEE CELEBRATIONS

Mysore, Aug. 23

Inaugurating the Golden Jubilee celebrations of the Majlese Rifahul Muslimeen, here this morning, Governor Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar complimented the Orphanage for rendering yeoman service to the poor and destitute Muslims during the last half a century.

After prayers, Sri Syed Taj Peeran, President presented an address to the Governor and announced that the Governor had donated Rs. 1008 to the Orphanage.

The Governor said social service was not merely an individual or local activity. It had assumed national importance and in certain aspects it had international as well. It was only natural that in a welfare State like ours dedicated to the ideals of Gandhiji special place should be given to social service. The Central Social Welfare Board was in a sense the keeper of the Nation's social conscience.

Continuing, he observed that the rehabilitation of the poor and the destitute members of the Muslim community was their special responsibility and that had been discharged very well by the Orphanage. It was heartening, he said, to know that the aim of the Orphanage was to see that inmates helped themselves and not to make them idle and helpless recipents of bounty. Morally and psychologically as well as from a practical point of view, it was far better to help a man to earn than to make him an object of our charity.

Chief Minister, Sri B.D. Jatti who presided praised the services of the Muslimeen and said that such charitable organisations founded for the welfare of suffering humanity bore ample testimony to the fact that man, though his first and last love was self-love, was capable of transcending the frontiers of the self and extending his love to all his fellow-men.

The Chief Minister said that it was our duty to share the joys and sorrows of our fellow-men and try our best to wipe off the tears of our unfortunate brothers and sisters. Service and compassion were the messages of all religious leaders in the world and as such he hoped that this institution would have added strenghth to serve the humanity.

NEHRU DEPRECATES BOSSISM IN CONGRESS

Mysore, Aug. 25

Prime Minister Nehru yesterday called upon the Congressmen to work unitedly for the emotional integration of the country. 'Till this is satisfactorily achieved we shall be lacking in something which is very vital', he said.

Addressing the Mysore District and City Congress workers, here at the Co-operators' Home, Prime Minister Nehru said though emotional unity of India did exist, 'it is not to the extent we would like it to be'. It was the historic destiny of the Congress to bring it about, he said.

National Unity, he said, was the step by which the nation reached a higher stage in the world. 'Before we reach that stage we have to prepare ourselves. But we see frequently so fissiparous tendencies in India which shows that we have not quite realised what national unity means', he said.

Sri Nehru expressed his dislike to any kind of 'regimentation' among the Congressmen. 'We want individuals to think, to discuss and to argue about things and to come to joint decisions and having come to decisions to act upto them. Thought devoid of action is aims at still-born" he stated.

Sri Nehru said that our people were too much addicted to vain thoughts. So he wanted Congress to be a body of action and said "otherwise it becomes stale and gradually will begin to fade away".

He declared that if Congress was to serve India in the future and to perform any useful service to the people "the Primary qualification is that we must forget our individual ambitions". It was not wise at all, he said, for individuals to function too much individualistically".

He reminded Congress workers of the colossal problems which the country was facing and said that they should know how to face them and not become victims of internal quarrels or dilute the organisation by trying to pull or push.

Sri Nehru also deprecated the tendency on the part of the office-bearers of Congress committees to cling to their posts for long period. He warned Congressmen against developing "bossism" and urged them to have more contacts with the people.

GRACIOUS CITY

Prime Minister Nehru described Mysore City as the "most gracious and attractive City", when he inaugurated the world Agro-Economists Conference, here, yesterday.

CO-OPERATIVES FOR RURAL PROSPERITY

NEHRU'S PLEA AT AGRO-ECONOMISTS CONFERENCE

Mysore, Aug. 25

Prime Minister Nehru declared here yesterday that only through peasant co-operatives the rural prosperity could be achieved.

Inaugurating the tenth session of the world Agricultural Economists Conference, Prime Minister said that a stable agricultural foundation was the vital factor in the progress of any nation. India, he said had never realised the importance of this aspect as now and it was binding all her engeries to give a mouthful of morsel to everyone of her teeming 360 million masses

Mr.Nehru pointed out how a lop-sided development had taken place in India, a political revolution preceding an economic one. When the Britishers left, a legacy of economic ruin was left behind, and India faced a termendous task in reconstructing herself.

The partition of the country, he said had bisected India of her most fertile lands and the nation to that extent was in a huge deficit. So someting should be done to improve the lot of farmers. "When I think of the pitiable plight, a certain anguish arises in me, but at the samo time, I have a tremendous faith in them for they don't allow themselves to be submerged by adverse circumstances. Despite their misfortunes, they have never given up singing and dancing", he said.

Stressing the importance of peasant co-operatives, Prime Minister said that the Indian peasant's holding being very small, co-operatives alone could function effectively. He did not want the State officials to reduce the initiative of the peasants.

Sri Nehru declared that he was confident that after the initial difficulties confronting the country were got over, the pace of progress would become faster "because we have tremendous faith in the innate good sense and intelligence of the Indian peasantry".

The Prime Minister concluded his address by ringing loudly the cow-bell, which received thunderous applause from the delegates.

FAMOUS MYSORE GARLANDS

Prime Minister Nehru praising the "famous Mysore garlands" asked the delegates assembled at Airport here to receive him," I hope you are impressed now by the size and beauty of Mysore garlands".

UNION FOOD MINISTER TO RESIGN !

The Union Food Minister, Sri A. P. Jain, it is learnt, has sent his resignation to his office in view of the all-round criticisms of the handling of the food situation in the country, even from the members of the Congress Party.

RIGHT BALANCE BETWEEN URBAN & RURAL DEVELOPMENT

SAYS PRESIDENT OF WORLD AGRO-ECONOMISTS CONFERENCE

Mysore, Aug.

Mr. L. K. Elmhirst, President of the International Conference of Agricultural Economists here called upon the people to take 'a wider view of the farm in its relation to the world as well as to the national economy in which it operates.'

Calling for a right balance between urban and rural develoment, Mr. Elmhirst said that a farmer offered a service to the Community and needed in return a full range of services, from his market town, from industry, from his university and his Government.

The problem of rural India. Mr. Elmhirst said, was the under-employment of 75 per cent, her manpower. Can the new industries and the serviers that go with them, sypnon of some of this unused potential ? Can all rural areas be so lined with their appropriate urban centres that a new and two-way service may develop between them, so that a wider range of opportunity for agriculture and for the village community can emerge ?

'How are the half a million rural communities in India housing approximately 325 million people, to develop? They still lack services of even the most primitive kind. With the right kind of help, they can gain these services and find for themselves the road to an abundant life based on sound economies, a life that could yield far more than merely a material return.'

Mr. Elmhirst said in trying to work out the right balance between urban and rural development, there was one further problem that social scientists must face boldly and examine with care. ' This is the problem relating a nation's population to its land resource and to land-use in a world that, at present rate, will about double its total number of people by the end of this century.'

It would be wise for every nation or State, he said, to begin to work out for itself today a sound strategy of multiple land use. before too much land was gobbled up for limited or unsuitable purposes. or lost to use altogether by wind, fire, flood ar overgrazing. In the area served by the Damcdar Valley Corporation in India, an attempt has been made to apply principles of multiple land use, and where whole villages have pooled their lands in a common interest of soil conservation, fertility, improvement, controlled grazing and water storage protection, he said.

The inaugural function was held at the Townhall. Nearly 350 delegates from 60 Nations attended the Conference.

Governor Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar welcomed the Prime Minister and the delegates.

On behalf of the Indian Society of Agricultural Economists, Sri Manilal B. Nanavati extended a warm welcome.

Union Food Minister, Sri A. P, Jain requesting the Prime Minister Nehru to inaugurate the conference said in a country like India, where the economy was predominantly agricultural-oriented, the importance of studies and research in agricultural economics could hardly be over emphasised. He stated that the Government of India had set up four regional Research Centres for carrying on continuous research in agro-economic praoblems and it was proposed to set up two more centres to cover all regions.

Mysore Chief Minister Sri Jatti proposed a vote of Thanks.

Need For More Food Production

DISCUSSION AT WORLD CONFERENCE

Mysore, Aug. 26

'The Shifting Fortunes of Agriculture' was the collective theme of three papers read at the first business session of the International Agricultural Economists Conference, here yesterday.

Prof. D. R. Gadgil of the Gokhala Institute of Politics and Economics, Poona in his paper on 'In less fully developed countries', stated that more than 80 per cent of the world population supported by agriculture lived in Asia and other undeveloped countries and viewed as a human problem, the problem of agriculture was essentially a problem of less developed countries.

Most of the underdeveloped countries, he said had to be concerned about increased food production. In the long run, successful and sustained industrial development would itself needed a wider agricultural base.

Taking a serious view of the stagnation in agricultural yields, prof. Gadgil said that apart from direct attempts at increasing area and productivity, programme like reform of the rural socio-economic structure and the reorganisation of individual holdings should be included under the omnibus term 'land reform'.

Dr. W Arthur Lewis of Manchester University dealt on "General Setting" and Dr.B. Gale Johnson of Chicago University spoke on 'conditions in highly developed countries'.

Lack Of Adjustment In Agriculture

DISCUSSIONS AT WORLD CONFERENCE

Mysore, Aug. 28

Prof. R. Ricanic, University of Zegreb, Yugoslavia speaking on the "Lack of Flexibility in Agriculture," here yesterday at the world Agro-Economists Conference said there were social and human factors of institutional type which caused lack of adjustment in agriculture to forces of change. Some of these rigidities related to the population and family and some others related peasants' ways of life and their attitude including beliefs, customs and prejudices.

Giving the picture of three broad groups of countries, he said the problem in capitalist agriculture led often to surpluses which sometimes resulted in ideing away of resources. In under-developed countries the producer tended to be exploited and received a very low share. In the Soviet type, the market factors combined with bureaucratic regidities tended towards maladjustments of a fundamental character as had been recently noticed in East European Countries.

The Russian delegate, Mr. Djalilov giving an account of the progress of agriculture in his country said that over last 30 years they had increased agricultural products tremendously,' thus assuring higher standard of living and welfare to the farmers.

Dr. A. T. Mosher of New York speaking on " Education, Research and Extension in Agricultural Economics in Asia and Latin America Today" said that under-graduate education in agricultural economics should be so designed as to help the students to recognise the need for choice-making. He stressed the need to develop courses on agricultural economics that would help each student to learn and to think economically with respect to the immediate problems of agriculture of his own country.

Dr. D.G. Karve (India) speaking said that agricultural extension had now been adopted as an administrative policy in many States in India.

Poverty In Rural Areas

WORLD CONFERENCE DICUSSIONS

Mysore, Aug.30

At the International Conference of Agricultural Economists here yesterday, Prof. K. O. Campbell of Australia spoke on "Rural Population Movement".

He referred to the movement of rural population out of agriculture and said growth of population, relatively low price and income, elasticities of demand for food and technological progress were some of the contributory causes for this migration. He opined that underdeveloped countries should therefore place the primary emphasis in raising the level of skills of the population and introducing new technology in relation to country's peculiar needs.

Dr. U. A. Aziz of Malaya University speaking on "Interdependent Development of Agriculture and other Industries" said the impact of Western imperialism in backward regions was mainly responsible for the disintegration of the traditional villages as well as in the increase in poverty.

He said "the impact of Western imperialism has been to destroy cottage industries, to neglect development of rural industries, and to prevent the growth of heavy industries". In his view, poverty had three causes, namely, low productivity, exploitation and neglect. Agricultural development means elimination of these causes, he said.

Agriculture Planning In India

WORLD CONFERENCE DISCUSSIONS

Mysore, Sept. 3

Dr. S.R. Sen, Economic Adviser to the Ministry of Food and Agridulture, India, told the delegates of the International Agricultural Economists Conference here yesterday that politically-consciousmasses of India were constantly pressing for faster developments and quicker results. They were forcing to give them jam tomorrow as also jam today with the result that the choice between consumption and investment was becoming increasingly difficult,

Speaking on "Planning Procedure for Agriculture in India", Dr. Sen said this had to be a process in which the technician, the politician, the public and the various interests in the country had their say and therefore had to represent many compromises. In his opinion, this Five Year Plan was not enough. It had further to be broken down into annual plans where perhaps the technicians had a greater say. In a mixed economy and in a political democracy, the technician had to work along with others and subject his analysis to the various social and political considerations which was presented by the society as a whole.

Our first task, Dr. Sen said, was to provide conditions or create production potentials which would make possible a certain general development of agriculture. This was a target which had to be definitely achieved.

Dr. Sen then gave a short account of how India was formulating her Third Plan, and said " Although the Third Plan will start from 1961, work on it has already started," Each village, each district, each State and each Ministry of the Central Government would prepare its own plan and all these plans would be co-ordinated and forwarded to the Planning Commission.

Prof. Chkava of Japan and Dr. Samuel of Israel gave details of their planning in their respective countries.

Governor Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar watched the proceedings for some time.

STATES TO RAISE 140 CRORES MORE

INCREASE IN SECOND PLAN CORE

DEFICIT FINANCING GOES UP

The minimum outlay on the 'core' of the Second Plan would be Rs. 150 crores more than Rs. 4500 crores as estimated by the National Development Council according to the latest appraisal by the Planning Commission.

This additional outlay will be required by the Centre for the implementation of the 'core' and other 'inescapable' schemes of the Plan.

States had been asked to raise additional resources to the extent of Rs. 140 crores to meet this increase expenditure of Rs. 150 crores.

This was disclosed by the Planning Minister, Sri Nanda, yesterday, in the Lok Sabha.

Sri Nanda said that as a result of the reappraisal, while more funds had been allotted to industries and minerals, it was regrettable that the expenditure on social service which was by no means large in the original Plan, had to be reduced. Efforts were now being made both at the Centre and the States to see that the social service did not suffer any more.

The Planning Minister said that the deficit financing would now go up from originally contemplated 25 per cent to 26.7 per cent and external assistance from 16.7 to 23 per cent.

Referring to the foreing assistance for implementing the Plan, the Minister said that it amounted to Rs. 859 crores. The U. S. had contributed Rs. 400 crores, the World Bank Rs. 136 crores, the Sovet Union Rs. 123 crores and the West Germany Rs. 64 crores.

MONEY MARKET IN "FLOURISHING CONDITION"

———SAYS HOME MINISTER PANT

Union Home Minister Pant and the Planning Minister Nanda stoutly defended the Planing Commission yesterday at Lok Sabha.

Pandit Pant said "we have succeeded more than other people through planned economy".

He pointed out that the World Bank had described India's achievement by democratic methods as one for which there was no parallel in history.

Sri Nanda said that the outlay in the public sector in the Second Plan stood at Rs. 4,500 crores. There were exceedingly pressing demands and another Rs. 150 crores were required. But this additional expenditure would be undertaken only if additional resources were available. Otherwise the Plan would stand at Rs. 4,500 crores.

Hoarded Gold Can't Be Mobilised

Planning Minister Nanda explained in the Lok Sabha the reasons why the proposal for mobilisation of gold stocks in the country for raising internal recources for the Plan was not feasible.

The crux of the problem, he said, was that in India today there were gold holdings of the value of Rs. 1,750 crores which were mostly in the form of jewellery and other personal possessions of women. As against the international price of Rs. 62.50 per tola, the domestic price was Rs. 103. If the international price was offered, the gold would not be sold to the Government. Even if the International Monetary Fund could agree, Government could hardly be a party to paying a price for gold which was not in line with the official price.

He complained that recently the authorities had issued notices to hundreds of shops for compliance of rules regarding keeping of registers and working hours, which had caused great inconvenience and hardships to the merchants.

The pressmen while assuring their co-operation for any just cause took objection for wild allegations made against an officer who was discharging his duties. If the merchants found great hardships to comply with the rules, they should approach the Government for amending the Act and not blame the officer.

This has led to the stabilisation of agricultural yield at a low lovel. Of the various sources of nitrogen, green manure and rural composts are among the richest. In some of the research projects the increase in the yield of paddy and wheat due to the application of green manure ranges from 30 to 40 per cent.

NO GOVERNMENT CONTROL ON CO-OPERATIVE MOVEMENT

STATE CO-OPERATIVE CONFERENCE

PRESIDENT'S WARNING

Mysore, Oct. 20

Presiding over the Mysore State Co-operative Conference here yesterday, Sri B. J. Patel, General Secretary of the All India Co-operative Union, Delhi, warned that any legislation which denied to co-operative institution the right to administer its affairs would not be condusive either for the expansion of co-operative movement or for the attainment of national objective, viz, the establishment of co-operative commonwealth.

More than 500 delegates from all over the State attended the Conference.

Sri S. Srinivas, President of the Provincial Co-operative Institute welcomed the delegates.

Sri Patel said that co-operation was a voluntary democratic movement of the people run by the people for the benefit of the people themselves. So it was paradoxical that inspite of the unambiguous statements of policy made from time to time by the Government and recommendations of independent committees, the powers had been conferred on the Registrar even to control the movement on behalf of the Government.

Co-operation, he said, had now ceased to be merely a credit movment but had made considerable headway in different fields of economic activity. So in his opinion, the only satisfactory solution was in transforming the department into an extension department manned by experts in different fields of economic activities. Therefore, if the Government was really serious to allow the co-operative movement to play its proper role in the economic organisation of the rural and urban classes, they had a special responsibility to the reform of legislative measures and administrative machinery which had now imposed heavy shackles on the movement.

Sri Patel said that the proposed Co-operative Societies Bill in Mysore fell short of our expectation. This Act should have the minimum restrictive clauses and the maximum scope for people's own control. So he advised the conference to scrutinise the provisions of the Bill very carefully and make suggestions to the Government for ensuring the sound functioning of the societies in accordance with the principles of co-operation.

Sericultural Training Institute

CHIEF MINISTER JATTI INAUGURATES

Mysore, Oct. 22

Chief Minister, Sri B.D. Jatti today inaugurated the All India Sericultural Training Institute, here.

Appreciating the decision of the Central Silk Board to establish this training institute in Mysore City, Sri Jatti said that with the rapid expansion of sericulture under the First and Second Plans the need for a permanent training institute had been very keenly felt for some time past. It was in the fitness of things that the institute should be located in the Mysore State as it had been famous for its silk among other things.

Sericulture, he said, like many other avocations had been more or less a hereditary occupation from generations. With the advances which had been made in recent times in regard to the rearing of silk worms and mulberry cultivation an increasingly large number of people had taken to sericulture and the old arrangements for training could no longer serve the new needs which had arisen.

The Institute would impart training, theoretical as well as practical in mulberry cultivation, silk worm rearing, reeling and weaving of silk. There were two courses of training, one for non-graduates and other for graduates. Chief Minister Jatti hoped that the Institute would have a long and useful career for the benefit of sericulturists not only in Mysore State but also for other States.

Mysterious Object Was Tornado

Bangalore, Oct 22

The mysterious flying object which caused considerable havoc in a 40-mile area in Kolar and Tumkur districts, was a tornado, according to the official sources.

Sri M.N. Mallikarjunappa, Deputy Director of Geology who made a spot survey with his staff stated that the tornado was the result of gushing of air in spaces with low pressure of air. The process would make a terrible noise and the approximate speed of tornado would be between 100 to 500 miles. In living memory, he said, such a devastating wind blew in parts of Coorg in 1874.

He pointed out that this had nothing to do with any geological phenomenon and in evidence, that this current passed through right across a tank, sweeping trees on either side of the dam, but the dam was intact. The roofs had been blown off in certain places but the walls were unaffected.

INTRODUCED IN MYSORE CITY

Mysore, Oct. 27

Dr. K.K. Hegde, Health Minister inaugurated yesterday the Domiciliary Tuberculosis Treatment Service, here at P.C.T. Dispensary in Banki Nawab Street.

Dr. P.Somasundar, T.B. Adviser to Government welcomed the Minister.

Minister Hegde said that Tuberculosis decease had become a national problem for India. There were 10 million new tuberculosis infections in the country every year, 150 million had been infected some time past and half a million died each year.

In Mysore, he said,' the annual death was 6, 064 and 30, 000 persons were suffering in the State. For such a large number of patients it was not possible to provide facilities for hospitalisation. The economic factor of many poor patients had to be taken into consideration also. So as an experimental measure they were venturing on this new scheme of Domiciliary Treatment Service where it was proposed to send the doctor to the door of the patient in the neighbouring areas of the dispensary.

The Minister after giving the various steps taken to minimise incidence of this decease said that within the end of the Second Plan the Government proposed to open T.B. clinics at Mandya, Hubli, Mercara, Hassan, Shimoga and Tumkur. They also intend to start a rehabilitation centre at Bangalore and also to hold medical educatien research in the field of tuberculosis. In Virajpet and Somvarpet they were putting up isolation wards and in Gulburga a ward of ten beds.

Dr. Hegde hoped that with the co-operation of the public this new scheme would become popular and successful.

On this occasion he announced that Sri Chowdiah, a local municipal councillor had paid a donation of Rs. 10,000 in addition to Rs. 10,000 already paid towards a children ward at the T. B. Sanitorium in the City.

Dr. Ananda Thirtha proposed a vote of thanks.

Sack Of Baramula

The grim story of the sack of Baramula in Kashmir State is told for the first time by four members of an international community who were then serving at the St. Joseph's Francescan Convent in the town, was broadcast yesterday from Delhi.

The State of Jammu and Kashmir was invaded on October 22. 1947, The invaders from Pakistan advanced rapidly and on the fourth day of invasion (October 26, 1947) they swept into Baramula, the only major town on the open road to Srinagar, 35 miles further south-east, The invaders indulged in indiscriminate looting. pillage, burning and abduction. The grim revelation of arson, murder and looting dawned upon the world when the Indian Army pushed the invaders back, liberating the town.

According to one account, out of its nearly fourteen thousand inhabitants, only one thousand survived. Among those slain were four Europeans and a retired British Army Officer, Colonel Dykes, and his pregnant wife.

After the town was attacked, one party of tribesmen scaled the walls of the Convent and the little church. A twenty-year old Indian nurse - Philomena - tried to protect a Muslim patient whose baby had just been born. She was the first to be shot dead. The patient was next. Mother Superior Aldetrude rushed into the ward, knelt over Philomena and was attacked and robbed The assistant Mother - Teresalina - saw a tribesman, point a rifle at Mother Aldetrude and jumped in front of her. A bullet went through Teresalina's heart.

Monseigneur Shanks says "The place was swarming with tribesmen. There were thousands of them on the high road in the college compound, in the hospital compound, all over the place. The road glowed with burning buildings there all round on both sides of the river. Our own Presbytery by the way had been burned down a few nights previously and every night during that period we had seen fires in one direction or another. Sometimes it appeared as if half the bazzar was burning".

LOCATION OF N.E.S. OFFICE IN HUNSUR

Sir, In democratic Government public voice plays an important role and is to be meted with due respects. In Hunsur though the public is not in favour of locating the N. E. S. office in the site chosen now (S. No. 14), the authorities insist on the same place. It is most inconvenient to the public if it is located there. It is earnestly requested that the office be located by the side of the Taluk office where there are three vacant Government sites.

PROPER TRAINING IN LEADERSHIP

MYSORE MINISTER'S PLEA AT ALOKA

Mysore, Nov. 3

Inaugurating the special training course for officials in rural development by theALOKA (World Assembly of Youth) at Rajya Nilayam, Yelwal, 8 miles from here, this morning, Sri K.F. Patil, Agriculture Minister stressed the need for proper training in leadership.

This organisation was called ALOKA and a better name could hardly had been chosen for it meant light, he said. India happily occupied an important place in the comity of nations. Under the leadership of our Prime Minister Nehru India was known as a force on the side of peace and moral values. Our 'Panch Shila' counted among its votaries of many nations in the world and summed up a philosophy of happy co-existence and constructive endeavour which approach alone could relax tension and made one better international understading. In this, he said,the International bodies were playing an important part in drawing nations together so as to make the world a better place to live in.

Emphasising the importance of leadership, Sri Patil said that three important ingredients of leadership were knowledge,character and sympathy. In India, where the bulk of the people lacked conventional education, the need for and significance of leadership was great. It had to be purposeful. Our economy was grounded on agriculture and was patterned on a village economy. So our leaders had to acquire clear knowledge and a thorough understanding of the ramification of our rural economy. He hoped that the training imparted here would open a career of high endeavour to the trainees.

Earlier, Dr. Lynton, Director welcoming the Minister said that this organisation was interested in development, in seeing things changed, in achieving the greater production of food, in securing the abler and livelier participation of many men and women in their community affairs, in bridging the divisions between countries and developing ourselves which was the process of change that they called learning.

NEED FOR SCIENTIFIC AND TECHNICAL EDUCATION

KRISHNAN'S PLEA AT CONVOCATION

Mysore, Nov, 13

Prof. K.S. Krishnan, Director of the National Physical Laboratory, Delhi delivering the Convocation address of the Mysore University, here today, stressed the paramount need for scientific and technical education as "it is becoming more and more a necessary equipment for every one, whether his career lies in science or in other fields".

The following is an extract from his speech:

Any occasion which takes mé out to a University is naturally a welcome one to me. When further the occasion brings me to a part of the country, so rich in academic traditions as your State is, it has a certain special appeal. In my mind the picture ofMysore is so richly clothed with memories that I cherish, of Shankara, Ramanuja, Madhva and Basava, four of our greatest acharyas, of Vidyaranya and Akshobhya Muni, of Doddacharya and Parakala, which are venerable names indeed, and of philosopher kings like Krishnadeva Raya and Chikkadeva Raya. Indeed almost any new intellectual or academic movement in India—with a certain characteristic modesty, we always regarded all new movements as just a renaissance-could from a very early period look to this part of the country for proper nurturing.

In many parts of the country the world Karnataka is today almost a synonym for the world classical, as for example in music, where it is used generally to contrast it with the Desiya, always to the disadvantage of the latter.

The great academic traditions that I mentioned just now are indeed our common heritage, and their roots go back to a very remote past, and they also extend far beyond the confines of our country. There is no parallel in the world of a continuity of such rich academic traditions, and over such a long period.

What a teacher ! What a noble ideal ! We too in our occasional expansive moods speak in almost the same language about the noble profession of teaching, but we seem almost to resent that the profession has to be dependent on teachers at all !

It reminds me of a tragic episode in the life of our great mathematician Ramanujan. Many people have claimed to have discovered Ramanujan long before he became well known as the most outstanding mathematician that we had ever produced. And yet they had allowed him to earn his living as a clerk. That seems to be almost typical of our attitude towards our teachers in many parts of the country.

My main purpose here is to emphasise the continuity of our academic traditions; and with this rich heritage of academic traditions how natural it should be for us to take to any field of academic endeavour whether it be the humanities or the arts, or modern sciences or technology. In any case the best academic ideals of today are by no means alien to us.

The emphasis naturally will shift frequently from one branch to another. To-day the tendency all over the world, even in some of the most ancient Universities of the West, seems to be towards the sciences and technology. Apart from its being inevitable, this shift in emphasis towards the sciences would also be eminently desirable for purely academic reasons.

As a means of acquiring a truly liberal education the humanities and the arts were generally regarded as in some ways superior to the sciences Most educationists would concede today that the cultural value of the sciences is in no way inferior to that of the humanities and the arts. This is so not only in the case of the pure sciences, but in the case of technology too. Intellectual integrity by which I mean the willingness to face facts squarely and to draw logical conclusions from them, and to accept them without mental reservations and to act in a manner that would conform to such an unreserved acceptance, is an essential part of any liberal education, and it is much more readily acquired through the cultivation of the sciences than through other disciplines; because nature is the most dependable teacher. She may be profound, and oftentimes difficult to understand, but she invariably plays the game. And a really scientific outlook is more readily acquired by our contacts with nature than through other disciplines.

Indeed some eminent educationists, would regard technical education as even superior to the study of pure sciences and to the study of the humanities, in enabling one to acquire a truly liberal education.

In trying to understand Nature, which has been the major objective of the scientists, he has also incidentally managed to obtain enormous control over nature, which naturally raises numerously pressing problems, whih need a certain competence in science for tackling them.

It is significant, that while the scientist is keenly aware of the need for the humanizing influence of the other disciplines,—this awareness is by itself a certain mark of a liberal education-the humanities on the other side, do not seem to realize the important role which science has to play, in any scheme of education.

Science, during the last few decades has taken such enormous strides that even its most ardent votaries find it impossible to keep pace with her. Many incredible things are happening, which a few decades ago even those in the forefront of science would have regarded as definitely impossible. We have heard of facts being occationally stranger than fiction. But even our wildest dreams become stale in the face of some of the new happenings. All that is just the beginning, and a preview of the new scientific world that is unfolding itself. There is ample promise that the new world that you will be entering into is going to be ever so much more exciting than we of an earlier generation can 'ever hope to see.

MUNICIPAL ENGINEERING DEPARTMENT INEFFICIENT

——City Fathers

Mysore, Nov. 14

Sri B-Narayanaswamy, President presiding, the adjourned meeting of the City Municipal Council was held on Wednesday.

When the statement of income and expenditure of the Municipal Farm came up for recording, several members complained that it was not working properly and there was more expenditure than income. Sri Mir Noor Hussain alleged that Committee members were getting fruits and vegetables free. Sri Vedantha Hemmige suggested that adjoining 80 acres of land should be brought under cultivation and thus make the Farm profitable.

Sri Aziz Sait then moved a closure motion. But it was objected by Sri A. Krishnamurthy Rao and others on the ground that the subject had not been discussed fully. The President stated that closure motion could be moved only when the subject was discussed for more than an hour.

Sri Aziz Sait pointed out that a closure motion could be brought at any time and said that " a day will come when the Opposition occupy your place...What we are telling are all true but you are denying them."

President : I can't tolerate such criticisms.

Sri Noon : If you want to express your views you have to come and sit with the members and then speak.

President : He has got the right to speak and vote. I represent the Council and its administration. My work is not only to preside over the meetings but also participate in the debate and vote. The Farm is working satisfactorily but there may be few mistakes and we are trying to rectify them.

The statement of engineering works executed came up for recording, Sri M. N. Thimmiah complained that minor works were not being speedily executed. When sub-mines were put, roads were cut up and not patched up properly.

Sri Venkatalingiah said that there was no proper supervision on the gangmen with the result that the works were not executed properly.

Sri Aziz Sait complained that several pits were not covered properly and said the "famous garden city is becoming a deserted city of India". The condition of footpaths were worst and there were no manhole covers.

Sri Mir Noor Hussian said that engineering works were not done in a planned way. He pointed out that there was too much interference in the administration by the Councillors and hence works suffered.

Messrs. A. Krishnrmurthy Rao and Somasundara Sharma Complained that officers were not working satisfactorily and all the complaints and suggestions made by the Councillors should be noted by the officials.

Commissioner Vazir Ahamed replying stated that the works executed by the Engineering Department would be placed on the table shortly. He said that resources were not enough to keep all roads in a good condition.

UNEMPLOYMENT CAUSING CONCERN

Prime Minister Nehru voiced concern about the unemployment problem which was becoming more and more acute. Even if all the current and future development plans were implemented only the quarter of the population will be covered; the rest would have to create opportunities themselves through farming and allied operations.

He also advocated modernisation of existing plants which, though initially dislocating existing employment would ultimately create over employment opportunites.

ROAD ACCIDENTS IN CITY

MUNICIPAL COUNCIL'S CONCERN

Mysore, Nov. 21

The adjourned meeting of the City Municipal Council yesterday adopted a resolution expressing its grave concern over the increasing number of road accidents in the city and requesting the concerned authorities to take stringest measures to prevent their recurrence.

The resolution was moved by Sri M. N. Thimmiah and seconded by Sri Aziz Sait.

A resolution moved by Sri Thimmiah to construct and open a radio booth in the triangular lung-space in the Butchers' block, Mandi Mohalla was defeated by 11-12 votes.

Another resolution moved by Sri Vedantha Hemmige that the ruling given by the President on the point of order raised by Sri Aziz Sait at the special meeting held on Sept. 8 last, on the question "that a resolution moved by the Chair needs a seconder" was wrong was also defeated by 11-14 votes.

The Council turned down the resolution of Sri Aziz Sait that the roads and streets in the Seventh Division be immediately taken up for repairs, retarring and re-conditioning as their condition at present was very bad.

President Narayana Swamy replying to the debate on the above resolution stated that they had not sufficient money to take up that work immediately. Allotments had already been made and further commitments could not be incurred. As a matter of fact he said, more works had been undertaken in that Division including under-ground drainage. Estimates for further under-ground works costing Rs. 4 lakhs had been sent to the Government. He appealed to the Councillors not to 'bring politics" in these matters, and "let us think of rate-payers and work for them".

Srl Aziz Sait: "There is no politics in this. You have followed a discrimatory and "devilish" policy. Let your heart become as clean and white as your cap".

Ethical Fillip To Business

GOVERNOR'S PLEA AT LIONS CLUB FUNCTION

Mysore, No. 24

Business and professions need today a new ethical fillip and a greater moral tone, said His Highness Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, Governor last night, presiding over the Charter Night Celebrations of the Lions Club here at the Exhibition Building.

After the banquet and musical entertainment by Sri Visveswaran and Party. Sri M. B. Basaviah, President of the Club welcomed the gathering. Sri R. R Sastry, Treasurer presented a report and said there were 33 members in the Club. He announced that Sri Basaviah had donated clothes to be distributed among the poor.

Sri M. Venkataraman, Deputy District Governor then presented the Charter to the President of the local club.

Then toasts were proposed to the President of India and to the Lions International.

Replying, the Governor said that he was glad that the Lions Club was hitched to the Star of Service of Humanity. More valuable than the declaration of this lofty ideal, he said, was concrete implementation of this in workable terms, in terms of practical philanthropic work.

His Highness said, that in confirmity with the democratic pattern of society the Lions Club sought to provide a forum for the full and free discussion of all matters of public interest. No society, he pointed out could progress where thought was regimented and discussion banned.

It was the very essence of democracy that it consisted in reaching voluntary agreements by a method of discussion.

Finally, the Governor enjoined the Lions always to bear in mind their obligations as the citizens of their nation, their state and their community and to give them their unswearing loyalty in word, act and deed and to give them freely for their time, labour and means.

Bangalore, Nov. 27

Public Works Minister Channabasappa assured the members of the State Assembly yesterday that "Sharavati will be a reality in as quick a time as possible and work will go on as per schedule."

Replying to the debate on a non-official resolution demanding the inclusion of Sharavathi project in the core of the Second Plan, the Minister removed the apprehension of the members that the Central Government would not help them and said that "we should be grateful to the Government of India".

The resolution was unanimously adopted.

DO YOU KNOW?

The Indian Telegraph Service entered on the 107th year of its existence in November 1958.

Now the Indian Telegraph has the sixth largest inland traffic in the world, and in number of operations it is second only to the United States.

It maintains the highest telegraph office in the world, at Bhutong 13,500 feet above the sea level, built as early as 1887.

Under the First Plan it was proposed to open a telegraph office in every town with a population of 5,000 or over in every divisional headquarter and every thana or police station, irrespective of size.

By the end of December 1957, only two (in remote NEFA) out of 322 district towns, 13 out of 482 sub-divisional towns and 145 out of 1,369 tehsil towns remained without telegraph facilities.

The Second Plan provides for opening 1,400 telegraph offices and for extending the telegraph network in the under-developed areas by opening telegraph offices at about 200 places which are now far away from the existing network.

WEALTH TAX

The wealth tax collected during 1958-59 till the end of September amounted to Rs. 1,30,93,000 while the tax levied from December 1957 to the end of September 1958 was Rs. 7,75,69,000.

Discipline In Public Speaking

MYSORE GOVERNOR'S PLEA

Bangalore, Nov. 29

Inaugurating the Model Legislative Assembly of the University students here yesterday, the Governor, Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar stressed the need for youth to prepare themselves for shouldering the arduous responsibilities of citizenship in Free India.

He was hopeful, he said, that the youth who were going to be our future legislators would carry with them a habit of discipline in public speaking and make their mark not by flourishing words and toying with them but by their intellectual honesty and with due consideration for the feelings of others. Such a discipline was the urgent need of the hour, he added. Without such discipline and self-restraint, legislative bodies would be reduced to inconsequential talking centres end cockpits of strife. It should be possible for us, he said, to look forward to our student-legislators trained in these sessions year after year to form a core of decent, disciplined, perfectly democratic, honest and true men and women, for the working of our democracy, in days to come.

MYSORE LAND REFORMS BILL

THREE FAMILY HOLDINGS AS CEILING

TILLER OWNER OF SOIL

Bangalore, Dec. 1-

The Mysore Land Reforms Bill, introduced in the State Assembly on Saturday, fixes a ceiling on holdings at Rs. 3,600 net annual income.

Existing plantations and efficiently managed holdings under personal cultivation are exempted from the purview of the ceilings.

Other features of the Bill are: In future, leases will be permitted only in respect of lands held by persons suffering from some disability or persons serving in the armed forces or persons whose holding does not exceed a basic holding, which is defined as an extent of land which fetches a net annual income of Rs. 400.

In regard to lands leased out at the commencement of the Act, the right of resumption is generally regulated so that a tenant is left with a part of the holding, except where the land leased out is less than the basic holding and cannot be subdivided.

The measure fixes the rent at one-fourth of gross produce in the case of irrigated lands and one-fifth of gross produce in the case of other lands, subject to the condition that the existing rent are not liable to enhancement.

The Bill also lays down that the extent of land which a landowner cannot resume for personal cultivation will vest in Government on a notified date and the tenants who are actually cultivating such lands will be given occupancy rights subject to payment of fifteen times the rent minus land revenue, which amount will be paid to the owner as compensation.

The family holding is defined as holding giving a net income of Rs. 1,200 per annum, for regulating the rights of resumption and other allied matters.

The ceiling limit has been fixed as three family holdings.

The total extent of land leased out to tenants in the State now is 61.4 lakhs acres. Ownership of about 25 lakhs acres will be transferred to the tenants under the provisions of the Bill. The compensation payable to land owners is estimated to amount Rs.37.50 crores at an average of Rs.150 per acre.

The Bill provides for recovery of compensation from all tenants in 20 annual instalments with interest at 4½ per cent per annum and payment of the amount with interest to the land owners in instalments spread over 20 years or in the shape of negotiable bonds carrying interest at 4½ per cent and redeemable over a period of 20 years.

BALANCED VIEW ON LAND REFORMS

CONGRESS PRESIDENT DHEBAR'S PLEA

The Congress President, Sri Dhebar stated yesterday that there should be a balanced view on the land reform issue with "the mind concentrated on the question as to how to meet our present and future obligations in the shortest possible time."

Sri Dhebar stated that the Congress was clear that the tiler of the soil should be brought in direct relationship with the Government. There should be no intermediaries.

The Congress, he said "is clear about the application of land ceilings. The question is, what the ceiling should be, that is, whether it should be Rs. 3,600 or Rs. 5,400. It was argued at the conference that we must think of education and health of the families and provide ceilings on that basis. I said that there is the other side: that there are enormous number of people who are without land and employment. They should consider both the aspects."

He said a tiller was a person who was cultivating the land personally with the assistance or without ths assistance of labour and had a stake in cultivation and produce. Absentee landlordism had heen overruled in the county. Widows, minors and persons under various infirmities should be exempted from the rule. But there should be no other intermediaries, he added.

Work For Common Man

ADVICE TO P.S.P. WORKERS

Mysore, Dec. 9

Sri Yadavaji, PSP leader and Professor at Meerut College, addressing the workers of the local Praja-Socialist Party here yesterday called upon them to work for common man and strengthen the party with their constructive work.

He said that today there were two forces becoming more strong in the country communalism and communism. In Eastern part, communism was becoming strong; in northern India Jana Sangha was getting stronger and in the South caste politics was trying to mobilise public opinion. Here he regretted that in India today all political parties were not combating communal tendencies but utilising all its resources for their own growth. So the task of the P. S. P. today was great. To win elections was not primary but efforts to create democratic socialistic society was the essential one, he said.

The P.S.P. workers should not, he said, spend their time unnecessarily in criticising other parties but should work with common people. He pointed out that there were certain things which could be done without the aid of Government. They should devote their time and energy to do those work and become popular with the masses.

Earlier, Sri M. N. Thimmiah, Secretary welcomed Prof. Yadavaji

The net income would be 50 per cent of the gross income in the case of lands possessing facilities of assured irrigation from tank or river channel and in the case of other lands 33-1/3 per cent of the gross income.

SMALL-SCALE AGGRESSION BY PAK

SAYS PRIME MINISTER NEHRU

Prime Minister Nehru stated yesterday that some of the Indo-Pakistan border incidents on the eastern side were "really aggression on a small scale" by Pakistan, though he could not say what the intentions behind it excepting that it might be an attempt "just to show off".

"WIN OVER WOMAN OF FAMILY"

Bangalore, Dec. 12

Smt. Indira Gandhi stated that the Congress organisation had to play the role of an interpreter between the planners and the people and strive for getting people's participation in the development programmes.

She made an earnest call for the active participation of women and called upon the women of Mysore to give a lead, as they were far in advance of women of North in education and social work. She expressed her regret that women of Mysore did not come forward for political work.

DEMOCRACY NOT IN HAPPY STATE

Prime Minister Nehru stated yesterday at Delhi that at the present moment democracy was not in a happy state all over the world and people even in advanced countries have lost anchorage giving place to a certain vacuum in their thinking.

He said that gradually some new recipes and new institutions would have to be found to solve these ills, keeping in mind that individual dignity should grow, mentally, physically and spiritually, within the inevitable limits of centralisation that a social and political system had necessarily to create for itself.

NO AGGRESSION AGAINST KASHMIR

NEHRU WARNS PAKISTAN

Prime Minister Nehru declared yesterday in the Lok Sabha that any aggression on Jammu and Kashmir would be aggression on India and would be met "anywhere and everywhere and not in a confined territory where aggression takes place".

India, he said, did not want to weaken or put an end to Pakistan as a separate State. India wanted Pakistan to prosper. "We always wish to work and direct our policy so that Pakistan may flourish, but naturally we do not accept that Pakistan should commit aggression anywhere whether in that part of India which is Jammu and Kashmir or any other part of India".

"African Personality"

Prime Minister Nehru told Rajya Sabha that one of the most striking things today was the gradual development of what had been called "the African personality".

He said "It is emerging and I have no doubt that it is going to play a vital role in the future. But whether it can play that role through peaceful development or not I cannot say. Because in the very Africa where this African personality is emerging there are other forces down south and south-west which are not only opposed to that African personality but are ranged in complete opposition to any idea of race equality, political equality or any other equality. The most outstanding exponent of this doctorine of racial inequality is the Union of South Africa.".

The Prime Minister warned that"if this kind of thing continues in the South African Union and the African personality grows, there will be a mighty clash between these two, a clash which can be of no advantage to either side.

Governor's Tribute To Christian Missions

Mysore, Dec. 18

Governor Jayachamaraja Wadiyar presiding over the Golden Jubilee celebrations of St. Joseph's Convent High School for Girls, at Mercara, yesterday paid glowing tributes to the yeomen service rendered by the Christian Missions in India.

Education was essential for the personal improvement of the individual and indispensable for the political development of the country. Since India became independent, a new spirit was abroad-the spirit of adventure in building up the new India. In this adventure, men and women were equal sharers, and in keeping with this new spirit, many educational institutions were springing up all over the country for the benefit of the women.

The Governor added that the St. Jospeh's Convent High School for Girls which was established 50 years ago in Mercara was a tribute to the vision and enterprise of its founders who recognised the need for a school for girls in Mercara and provided it so long ago.

Cotton Research Centre For Mysore

Mysore Agriculture Minister, Sri K. F. Patil inaugurating the Ninth All-India Conference on Cotton Growing problems in India at Dharwar, yesterday stated that Mysore being the second largest cotton growing State, would have one of the five regional research centres in Raichur district.

Referring to the importance of increasing cotton production, he said, "I am aware that increasing the area under cotton for larger productions has reached a stage when further expansion is not possible owing to the necessity of increasing food production in the country. The Second Five-Year Plan envisages increasing cotton yield per acre by intensive cultivation measures which are important in view of the increasing stress laid at present in stepping up food production."

Sri Patil stressed the need for popularising the Sea-Island 'Andrews' cotton and said it was indeed a tremendous task and the growth of this cotton in India was of great interest as it was equal in quality to the imported Egyptian Karnak.

He said the establishment of multi-purpose co-operative societies to provide the necessary credit, issue of seeds and fertilisers at concessional rates, easy availability of pesticides to control the attacks of pests and diseases and marketing of crop was essential.

Under the Second-Five Year Plan, agricultural production had to be increased so as to counteract inflation due to industrial developments. Consequently a target of sixty-five lakh bales was fixed for achivement by 1960-61. "We are now in the third year of the Second Plan and it is seen from all accounts that the target of 57 lakh bales fixed for the season is likely to be achieved," he added.

The Minister stated that Mysore State after reorganisation was the second largest in the cultivation of cotton, with some twenty-seven lakh acres most of which was under medium and long staple cotton. "We are indeed fortunate in having a compact block of about 15 lakh acres in the Dharwar division and another about 8 to 9 lakh acres in Raichur Division.

"Kannigadhana Trust"

His Holiness Sri Sankaracharya of Kamakoti Peeta has commended the working of "Kannigadhana Trust" and said "if each family took out a life insurance policy for an aggregate amount according to their capacity, assigned them in favour of "Kannigadhana Trust" and fulfilled the conditions till maturity, it would go a long way to help the cause of unmarried girls in the country".

MYSORE SECOND ROCKET FAILS

Mysore, Dec. 26

The Indian Astro-nautical Society, Mysore, launched here this morning their second project experimental Rocket, at the 88th mile in Mysore-Bannur road, in the presence of a large gathering.

The 13-ft. Rocket, weighing 250 lbs. and with 4.12 inches in diameter, was lunched at 7.45 a. m. in a field, by Sri S.K Kumar, Secretary of the Society. by pressing a button from a battery placed just about 300 yards away from the spot. Immediately there was jet of fumes and the Rocket flying nearly 1000 ft. wabbled and fell just 100 yards away from the spot.

Sri Kumar in a statement claims "the Rocket took off vertically consuming its fuel within 4 seconds and within 13 seconds reached an altitude of 5,000 ft. This particular test Rocket did not come up to our expectation based on calculations. The inefficiency of the Rocket was due to high pressure developed by the combustion of the fuel which resulted in the malfunction of the Rocket's certain parts".

He also states that "the Rocket's body was made out of thick steel with a wall thickness of 0.25". It was equipped with a seperatable instrument package fitted in the nose cone. It was expected to recover this capsule using a parachute, which was to have been released by a mechanism inside. Aboveall, the system did not work".

To be self-reliant, our international trade should increase and we should sell more goods with the stamp of India", he said.

STOP HOOLIGANISM AND SLOGAN-SHOUTING

PANT WARNS MAHARASHTRIANS

Union Home Minister Pant yesterday warned the protangonists of Samyukta Maharashtra that they could never achieve their cherished goal through slogan-shouting and coercive methods.

Addressing a public meeting at Bombay, Pandit Pant said "the disturbances and destruction to public property, as had been caused by anti-social elements during the linguistic agitation two years ago, had not brought them any nearer their goal".

The Home Minister said that bilingual Bombay had been formed by democratic means and no amount of slogan-shouting and hooliganism could change this set-up.

He said that at a time when the country had embarked on gigantic schemes for improving the economic and social life of the nation, it would be "rediculous for people to get agitated over small bits of territory here and there."

The prime need of the hour was to infuse a new vigour and a missionary zeal to implementing the ideal of socialistic society, which the country had set before itself, he said.

GUILTY OF CODE OF CONDUCT

INTUC PRESIDENT'S CHARGE AGAINST STATE GOVERNMENT

Mysore, Jan. 3

Sri G. Ramanujam, President of the Indian National Trade Union Congress yesterday accused the Government of Mysore for being "guilty of code of conduct" in running the State-owned industries.

Addressing the members of the various Labour Unions, here, the INTUC President said that service conditions of the employees of nationalised industries in Mysore were "disheartening". He said that the labour had a right for living wages and other facilities. The Gevernment should be an ideal employer and judging from the conditions in Mysore, he would say that they were far from ideal and were even below that of private employer.

He said that employers had a set-pattern towards labour in private sector. The Government of Mysore, as employer, was acting in the same way. When labour wanted nationalisation of industries, they did not expect that capitalism should be merely transferred to the Government. The Government as an employer should be superior in all respects.

The INTUC President regretted that the machinery under statues were not made available to the labour in tho State-owned industries and asked when the Government themslves refer the industrial disputes to the conciliation, why should feel shy in referring their own industrial disputes to conciliation This, he said, was against the "code of conduct".

If Government did not make available statutory machinery, they would be holding an invitation for strike. He appealed to the Mysore Branch of the INTUC to urge upon the Government to see that their employees in industries were treated better. Here he categorically refuted the "whisphering campaign" that INTUC would not fight against Government and declared that it was there to protect and support the labour.

Sri Ramanujam then referred to the disparity in the pay scales of Central and State Government and said this disparity was "unjustified".

In this age of democracy, he said, where it had been accepted that labour should have a hand in the management of industries, it was necessary that labour should be properly equipped to take up this onerous responsibility. Here he appealed to all the labour unions in Mysore to train their members.

He also asked the trade unions to be strong and united to fight against Government if they were unjust against labour.

Sri G. V. Ramachar, President of the Mysore Branch of INTUC presided.

Earlier, Sri B. Baliah welcomed the gathering.

FIRST MAN-MADE PLANET

ROCKET "LUNIK" AROUND SUN

SOVIET SCIENTISTS' ACHIEVEMENT

Russia's 1833-killogram cosmic rocket "Lunik", launched on Friday, swept round the moon at 1.25 miles second yesterday and set out on its elliptical path around the sun to take its place as the first man-made planet.

The rocket launched to mark the 21st Congress of the Soviet Communist Party, covered the 230,000 miles from earth to the moon in less than 36 hours.

Mr. Viktor Bezkin, Director of Moscow's Planetarium stated that the moon-shot was "fully successful" and Soviet scientists had achived their object of getting a rocket to the vicinity of the moon. He announced that the secrets of outer space being revealed would be fully shared with the rest of the world.

It is officially stated that "as the cosmic rocket recede from the earth and the moon and thus influence on the rocket's movement will weaken, the movement of the rocket will to an ever increasing degree, be determined only by the force of attraction of the Sun.

The rocket will enter into its final elliptical orbit round the Sun, thus becoming the first artificial planet of the solar system".

The rocket will be about 91.500,00 miles from the Sun on Jan. 14. This will be the nearest the rocket will get to the Sun. It will then go into 214,750,000 miles orbit round the Sun, taking 15 months for each circuit. The earth's average distance from the Sun is 93 million miles.

The figures of agricultural income at present being suggested in some States were 'an approach to the question of the extent of land that should be left with a person and 'the idea is not to limit a person's income'.

No Rigid Formula On Land Ceilings

—SAYS NEHRU

Prime Minister Nehru told the All-India Congress Committee yesterday that while land ceilings were imperative, no cast-iron formula could be applied with regard to their introduction.

Once the principle was accepted, he said each State could fix the ceiling taking into consideration the agricultural conditions prevailing in that State.

But he made it clear that there was no going back for the Congress from the policy of land reforms, including ceilings on land buildings to which it had been committed.

Sri Nehru also made it clear that while the Congress aimed at " progressive equalisation of incomes, rural and urban," it was not practicable to attempt ceilings in both sectors simultaneously. To put them on the same basis might be " sentimentally good but practically, obviously, it is not so."

PANDEMONIUM IN MUNICIPAL COUNCIL

Mysore, Jan. 12

Pandemonium prevailed at the City Municipal Council when it met on Saturday under the presidentship of Sri B. N. Kenge Gowda.

Trouble started when the election of members to the different committees came up.

There was verbal uproar between the members of the Congress Party and the United Civic Party when the former suggested the names of the Opposition Party to the Commit tees. The United Civic Party demanded that they should have the right to choose the names when Sri B. Narayanaswamy, the leader of the Congress Party read out the list of members. There were several point of orders and Sri Mir Noor Hussain even went to the extent of moving from his seat towards the President's rostrum and shouted "what about my point of order."

In this uproar when it was announced by the President that elections to Committees were over, Sri Mir Noon Hussain asked "Those who have no confidence in the President, Raise your hands". All the members of the Opposition Party raised their hands.

Industrious and Honest Japanese

MYSORE MLA's IMPRESSIONS

Mysore, Jan. 12

Smt. K. S. Nagaratnamma, MLA, who attended the International Conference of Social Workers at Japan as an Indian delegate told her experiences of the country to pressmen here yesterday

During the three-week sojourn in Japan, she said, she visited important industrial and agricultural centres and what impressed her most was that the people of Japan were very industrious, honest and highly patriotic. Every man, woman and children above the age of 14 worked hard to earn their wages. Every one in the family worked in the farms for certain period of the year and as this income was not sufficient, they also worked in industries. Although the labour got less wages when compared to labour in other countries, there were no strikes or discontent among labour in Japan. Every transaction was done through co-operatives.

As regards education, she said it was free and compulsory upto the age of 14.

There was no voluntary social service and this was looked after by the Government through paid social workers.

The Japanese people were highly Westernaised and there was no religious bigatory. Neither was there any distinction between high and low and man and woman.

Smt. Nagaratnamma regretted that the Indian Ambassy at Tokyo was not at all helpful to the visiting Indians. She instanced her own case and said that although she had written previously that she wanted some help in visiting some sericultural centres, she did not get any reply from them.

INDO-PAK AMITY,.

—SAYS NEHRU

Prime Minister Nehru told the 64th session of the Congress which concluded on Sunday that he was very much regretted the mentality of threats and challenges in the context of Indo Pakistan or world relations and expressed his belief that a day was bound to come when India and Pakistan would be able to get along in amity as two independent and separate countries.

He said the mentality of "flashing the sword" and giving threats was proving of no avail even in the wider context of relations between world powers. The old hostilities and enemity and quarrels between countries were of no consequences in the modern world. "If you increase this hostility and take to the path of war, then every body knows that it cannot be confined within the limits of a small war and a big war will break out. If the atom bomb is used the whole world will be destroyed. If today strong speeches are made, demanding this action or that, you may succeed in giving them the flash of the sword, but there will be nothing else in them."

STOP CROWDING IN COLLEGES

ELIMINATE UNFIT STUDENTS

UNION EDUCATION MINISTER'S PLEA

Presiding over of the Central Advisory Board of Education at Madras yesterday, Dr. Shrimali, Union Education Minister stated that crowding of students "unfit for University education" in colleges should be stopped and proper policy of admission be adopted if the present schemes on educational reorganisation were to be successful.

At present, he said, there was great wastage of money and human resources in colleges and universities and therefore, expansion of higher education during the next few years would have to be controlled considerably.

Dr. Shirmali made it clear that Secondary Education should not be construed as a stepping stone to higher education but should be made a centre to adequately prepare students for suitable vocations.

He commended the Basic system which combined education with vocation for introduction in the primary stage.

He also stressed the importance of physical education in the three stages of education and said that a Government ad hoc committee was now enquiring into the causes of "our backwardness in games and sports" and would submit its recommendations.

The Union Minister said that the percentage of failures at the Intermediate and Graduate level was 54.7 and 48.7 which meant that out of the meagre resources available they were wasting nearly 50 per cent of funds at each stage over students who were unfit for University education. Moreover by crowding the colleges and Universities, they were keeping out those boys who could genuinely benefit by higher education and make their contribution to social development. This wastage must be stopped by making a proper selection of students at the time of admission.

The expansion programme of higher education, he said, must be closely releated to our development programme to avoid wastage and frustration. It was pathetic to see University graduates remaining unemployed or taking up jobs where they could not make any use of training and experience gained at the Universities.

Dr. Shrimali said that the number of merit scholarships for poor and deserving University students should be considerably enhanced. Here he declared that no student who had ability and talent should be denied the opportunity of higher education.

PROPER MARKETING FOR NATIONAL ECONOMY

MYSORE GOVERNOR'S PLEA

SEMINAR ON REGULATED MARKETS INAUGURATED

Mysore, Jaa. 22

Inaugurating the Seminar on Regulated Markets, here this morning at the Central Food Research Institute, the Governor Jayachamaraja Wadiyar stressed the importance of satisfactory marketing arrangements for our notional economy.

The Seminar, organised by the Union Ministry of Agriculture, is attended by representatives of all States.

The Governor said that marketing of farm products appeared to present problems more challenging than those of production, particularly in a country like ours, where subsistence farming was generally the rule. Since there were too many intermediaries who operated in the various stages of marketing process, regulation of a fair price by the agriculturists was rendered rather difficult. Realising these hardships, the Central and State Governments had formulated various programmes for achieving efficiency in marketing. The most important marketing and developmental activities that were now being undertaken were organisation of co-operative marketing and processing societies, setting up of warehouses, grading and standardisation of production and promotion of regulated markets.

The Govrnor pointed out the difficulties that faced in the spread of these regulated markets due to vested interests and said producers began hating the institution when they found that the system of ready advances made by the wholesale merchants against produce was abolished and there was delay in starting equally prompt arrangements for such advances within the framo work of the Regulated market machinery. But he was glad 'that coordinated efforts were now being made to work out solution of these problems.

Sri Malli Mariyappa, Mysore Minister for Co-operation in his presidential address pleaded for a co-ordinated developmental activitity on all-India basis and also a uniform basis with regard to units of quotation of different market charges.

For achieving an overall efficiency in marketing structure various aspects of marketing development, such as, co-operative marketing, warehousing, grading and standardisation of regulated markets required to be geared together and these activities being complimentary it was highly desirable that these should be co-ordinated not only at the Central and State levels but even at the lower levels, he said.

Emphasising the importance of Market yards for orderly development of markets, the Minister referred to the considerable time wasted in the acquisition of lands and lot of money invested in acquiring lands. He hoped that the Seminar would suggest ways and means for expediting the acquisition work.

Earlier, Sri Mullik, Joint Secretary to the Union Ministry of Agriculture and Food welcoming stated that this was the first time such an All-India Seminar was being organised where officials and non-officials would meet and exchange various aspects of development of agricultureal marketing.

More Allotment For Plan Period

MYSORE REPRESENTATION TO COMMISSION

Bangalore, Jan. 23

Finance Minister, Sri T. Mariyappa who returned yesterday from Delhi after meeting the Planning Commission stated that the State Government had pressed for a bigger allotment for the fourth year of the Second Plan in view of the increased tempo of developmental activities. He said that although the Commission expected internal resources only to the extent of Rs. 9 crores for the whole Plan period, the State, in spite of difficulties, was able to show under the revenue account nearly Rs. 14 crores, which should evoke the sympathy of the Commission.

Sri Mariyappa stated that they had also urged for bringing the State's other developmental activities under the planfold with proportionate Central aid.

Referring to the Sharavathi project, the Minister said that they had pressed for foreign exchange facilities to the tune of Rs. 2.5 crores. The Planning Commission, he said, "has promised to take them into consideration and indicate their mind in consultation with the Finance Ministry". Seminar On Regulated Markets

Mysore, Jan. 23

Pattern of regulation of agricultural markets, their organisation and management and business techniques to be followed were among the subjects that came up for discussion here yesterday at the Seminar on Regulated Markets.

It was felt that in the management of Regulated Markets which were democratic institutions producer-consumers did not have an equal voice. It was therefore suggested that regulated markets should have majority of producers on their committees. It was also urged that the growers' representatives should be elected through their bodies like panchayats.

Since the success of regulated markets depended upon the leadership provided by the Chairman and members of the committee, it was urged that the members of the first committee should be nominated considering honesty and integrity of persons to be nominated.

Call Girls In American Business

Call girls, Madams, procurers and a top business executive have told in a radio broadcast how prostitution has become a part of the American business way of life.

The Columbia BroadcastingStation claimed that it was estimated that a call girl could average a yearly income of 10,000 to 25,000 dollars.

The call girls, it was said, came from all walks of life, secretaries, receptionists, school teachers, models, society girls, dancers and house wives in need of extra money.

The clients are men equally varied professions. In some cases top executives are directly involved giving instructions as to the type and extent of the entertainment their companies will provide.

One such executive described as the President of a large international firm, said" there is absolutely no doubt that prostitution 'per se' does help business". He continued "This is the fastest way I know of to have an intimate relationship established with a buyer. The point is that I know that the buyer has spent the night with a prostitute I have provided. In the second place, in most cases the buyers are married and are with families. Well, we will not exactly blackmail, but it is a subconscious edge over the buyer. It is a weapon I hold and I could discretely drop it at any time when the buyer's wife is present, It is a weapon, there is no doubt about it and it is a good weapon to have".

Some companies maintain one or two call girls on their payroll as part of their public relations staff.

An unidentified man who was often approched himself to provide the service of top girls said "There is a very famous madam in New York who takes care of your multi-millionaries only. She is a famous name and she puts out a book every year with pictures of the girls working for her. This woman would make a flat fee of 3 to 5 thousand dollars when big corporations had parties. She will send them a book and they will pick out the girls.

A woman, described as a madam, said that she dealt with a sales manager for one of the larger companies who required girls for his parties.

DISCONTENT AND HELPLESSNESS IN COUNTRY

DANGEROUS FOR DEMOCRACY, SAYS V. P. MENON

Mysore, Jan. 27

Sri V. P. Menon, Ex-Governor of Orissa yesterday warned that there was a sullen discontent and feeling of helplessness in the country, which was a bad augury for the future of democracy.

He was addressing a Republic Day meeting held under the auspices of the Sarada Vilas Law College.

Proceeding with the survey of events since Independence, Sri Menon said that within two or three years we had achieved a position of stability at home and respect abroad, with a minimum use of force and the consent of virtually the whole of our huge population. Referring to the first Plan, he said it was the new enthusiasm born of Independence which made the first Plan a success. But he feared, these success in the Industrial and Agricultural sectors, turned their heads. They failed to realise that the unity and enthusiasm of the first years of Independence could not last. As the spirit of these early days died away, change ought to nave become slower and more cautious; new order of things ought to have been given time to settle down. But instead of that, still greater changes were sprung upon the people,

After the liquidation of the Princely States and the promulgation of the Coustitution, he said it would have been wise to leave the administration alone for a quite a long time. But, instead, almost before the newly integrated services had time to take breath, another great reorganisation of States, was undertaken. It should have been made clear that it was possible to have either States reorganisation or a successful Second Five-Year Plan. But it was not possible to have both. They tried to have both, but the attempt proved beyond their strength and the result had been a grave set-back.

After the comparative success of the First Plan, the second had been a bitter disappointment. The Plan was too big, not for their needs, but certainly for their resources. It neglected agriculture and took too much by way of taxation away from the consumption goods and industries. It concentrated too much on gigantic projects, which took a long time to fructify. Above all, the psychology of the people and of the services were neglected. The result, he said, after three years of the Second Plan, was that both agriculture and industry were stagnant, prices had risen high, unemployment had increased, the public were suffering severely for little apparent gain and the general mood was one of disillusionment.

Sri Menon said that they were now going one step further in this dangerous process of favouring urban occupations as opposed to agriculture. It was discrimination between one class of citizens and another and there was nothing to justify that. This policy of ceiling also raised the question of right to property. In contrast to the zamindaris, the land to which the ceilings applied was purchased in the market, mostly of honest savings. The right to property was guaranteed in the Constitution, but a very controvefrial amendment empowered the Legislature to determine the compensation in case of acquisition by the State. Now the compensation offered for land acquired as a result of the ceiling policy was very much less than its market value. Thus these land reform Billswould be means for the expropriation of private property. All the classical theorists of democracy, he said, emphasised the fundamental character of the right to property and the dangerous consequences of tampering with it. Even in the communist countries a man was allowed to save and acquire properaty and to leave it to his heirs. He posed the question whether they were fully aware of what they were doing.

Sri Menon in conclusion said that though the forms of democracy had been observed, it was idle to say that these great changes that were being imposed on the country had received popular approval. The people had been given no time to think or to register their real feelings about them. The revolutionary changes were being rushed through merely by the popularity of the national party and its leaders and there were many signs that the people were not satisfied. "There is a sullen discontent and a feeling of helplessness, which is a bad augury for the future of democracy. We Indians are a conservative people. No good can come of this frensy of innovation. Let us realise the wisdom of hastening slowly" he added.

Sri K, Narahari Rao, Principal of the College presided.

COMPULSORY NOTIFYING OF VACANCIES

CENTRAL LEGISLATION SOON

Mysore, Jan. 29

Mr. H. Davenport. Director of Employment Exchanges, New Delhi anuounced here today that the Central Government would shortly bring in a legislation making it obligatory on every employer both in the private and public sector to notify all vacancies to the nearest Employment Exchange.

Explaining the work of Employment Exchanges in the country, at a press conference, Mr. Davenport said that the man-power planning which was very essential for the nation's economy had been neglected till now. Now these Employment exchanges had taken up that great responsibility of obtaining facts and figures of supply and demand of man-power in the country. But he made it clear that the Employment Exchanges were not there to lay down conditions to the employer for fixing up jobs and they were only here to furnish the list of qualified names for the employer.

Another imporatant aspect that they had launched now was the collecting of marketing information so that they might have the employment index. Here he made it clear that there was no compulsion and it was purely voluntry work. He was glad that this work was going on very satisfactorily and many employers were voluntarily furnishing the employment index figures.

He said that there were 3,74,800 educated unemployed in the country as on Dec. 31, 1958. Out of which, 2,92,000, were matriculates, 45,000 under grrduates and 37,000 graduates.

As regards clerfical jobs, he said that 1 in 20 could get a job as the number of vacancies were far below of man-pywer availability. Hence they had now started the "Guide to Careers" scheme. With the co-operation of the Educational Department in the States, the teachers in all High schools would be trained so that they could give proper guidance to their students seeking careers.

He also stated that a national classification of occupations would be brought out soon.

CHAMRAJNAGAR-SATYAMANGALAM RAILWAY LINE

NO PROSPECTS FOR PRESENT, SAYS RAILWAY MINISTER

Mysore, Jan. 31

Sri Jagjivan Ram, Union Railway Minister stated here yesterday that it was not possible at present to lay Chamarajanagar-Satyamangalam and Hassan-Mangalore Railway lines. But if the size of the Third Five Year Plan was such that it would provide more funds for railways, then he would try to meet the demand of Mysore.

He was speaking at a prayer meeting held at the Townhall in connection with the Sarvodaya Day

The Union Railway Minister conceded the point that during the last ten years not even a mile of railway line had been put in Mysore State. But he said the same position existed in Kashmir and other States also. He pointed out that in India there was one mile of railway for every 10,000 of population. On this basis, some States with small area and big population had more railway lines than some States with bigger area and less population. However he assured the people of Mysore that he had a picture of Mysore before him.

EDUCATION: ONE OF NECESSARIES OF LIFE

Mysore. Jan. 31

Laying the foundation stone of the Dalitha Vidyarthi Nilaya at Rajendra Nagar here yesterday, the Union Railway Minister, Sri Jagjivan Ram stated that education should be treated as one of necessaries of life.

The Union Minister stated that in a nation where larger number of people were uneduated and illiterate, the nation could hardly claim to progress and prosper. Unfortunately in our country, he said, opportunities were denied to citizens on various considerations, mainly due to economic conditions. It was, therefore, in fitness of things that the society realised its responsibility of educating the children of that section of society which had for long years been neglected. Here he made it clear those who were advocating the cause of scheduled castes and tribes and other Backward classes were not advocating their cause with a view to surpass others or to leave others behind. They wanted all to progress because they felt that the progress of the country demanded it.

Sri Jagjivan Ram pleaded for making education simpler. It was a pity that they were spending crores and crores on school buildings. Our engineers had acquired certain notions and they found it difficult to break from the old traditions.

It was incumbent on the society to provide opportunities for education of the poor, he added.

NO SHIFTING OF WORK-SHOP FROM MYSORE CITY

RAILWAY MINISTER'S ASSURANCE

Mysore, Jan. 31

The Union Railway Minister Jagjivan Ram today gave a categorical assurance that the Railway Workshop in the City would not be shifted and as a matter of fact, he said, steps had already been taken to extend it.

He was speaking at a reception accorded by the City Municipal Council.

Sri B N. Kenge Gowda welcoming the Minister urged for the construction of Chamarajanagar-Satyamangalam line, expansion of work-Shop to a Coaching factory and conversion of Mysore Bangalore line into broad-guage. He brought to the notice of the Railway Minister that the Southern Railways here were not paying their taxes and there were dues to the extent of Rs.1.5 lakhs.

The Union Railway Minister stated that it was not possible to accede to the request for a Coach Factory for Mysore since there were already excess of coaches and ways and means were being made to sell them outside.

He said local bodies like Municipalities and Panchayats had to play a great role in civic life in its area and here he wanted that Government powers should be decentralised so that these local bodies could carry on in providing education and other facilities to the public.

ADVICE TO RLY. WORKERS

Addressing the Southern Railway workers at the Workshop here this morning, Sri Jagjivan Ram stated that there was no foundation that Railways were retrenching the workers. The Government had no such intention and it was only false propaganda of some trade unions. He advised them to work sincerely and honestly for the country's progress and prosperity.

FRONTAL-ATTACK AGAINST CASTE SYSTEM

JAGAJIVAN RAM'S CALL TO THE NATION

Mysore, Jan, 31

The Union Railway Minister, Sri Jagjivan Ram declaring open the Siddharath Hostel here yesterday near Ashokapuram declared that if there was no frontal-attack against caste which was cropping up its head everywhere, there would be danger to democracy in India.

Sri S. M. Siddiah, M.P. and General Secretary of the State Adikarnataka Abhivriddhi Sangha welcoming the Minister stated that the Government had constructed this hostel at a cost of Rs. 1.5 lahhs and this was not exclusively for Harijans alone.

The Union Minister at the outset said that Jan. 30 was a memorable day as Mahatma Gandhi, the great champion of Harijans was murdered on this day eleven years back. Today he said there was no man to whom Harijans could go.

Condemning strongly the caste system in the country, Sri Jagjivan Ram said that this caste had harmed the country much more than many invasions from outside Caste and human values were incompatible and so also caste and democracy. Here he regretted that recently this pernacious caste had cropped up everywhere and thus threatening the very foundation of democracy. It was a pity, he said, that even in other religions in India this caste had cropped up. So long as caste system was there India would not prosper.

This caste system, he said had not only harmed Harijans but had harmed Brahmins more so. What a pity, he exclaimed that the Brahamin who was a great leader and teacher should today be reduced to eke out his living in petty jobs.

He declared that pristine glory of man had to be established all conventions, traditions,and superstitions born out of this caste system had to be done away with. And particularly so to these conventions gave advantages to sections of society and created vested interests.

Referring to name of hostel-Siddhartha, he said that it was befitting that this great name had been chosen. Siddhartha, he said, was a great revolutionary who fought against Varnashrams. Another great lesson they had to learn from this great Man was that a servant and a savant were greater than a monarch. So he advised the inamates of this hostel to remember that if they wanted to become great they should first learn to be servants first and last.

MAKE RESEARCHES BLESSING TO MANKIND

PRESIDENT'S CALL TO SCIENTISTS

Bangalore, Feb. 3

President Rajendra Prasad yesterday appealed to the scientists of the world to make their researches a blessing to mankind by tempering scientific progress with spiritual or moral values.

Inaugurating the golden jubilee celebrations of the Indian Institute of Science here yesterday, the President hoped that "our scientists and scientific institutions will not be tempted to divert their attention from serving constructive purposes, to the sinister service of destruction."

Speaking of the dilema arising out of the progress of science and the double edge of scientific inventions Dr. Prasad said that "they are not only a source of material development but have also become potential means of destruction. While it took many decades for the human society to take full advantageof scientific knowledge, inventions like atom and hydrogen bombs and ballistic missiles can make short work of human existence far more quickly."

He told the gathering that no good could come from one side blaming the scientists for their discoveries or from scientists disclaiming any responsibility "We are all of one human family with an interest in the well-being of mankind." TEAM WORK IN LABORATORIES

UNION MINISTER KABIR's PLEA

Mysore, Feb. 5

Prof. Humayun Kabir, Union Minister for Scientific Research and Cultural Affairs, addressing the members of the Central Food Research Institute here on Tuesday said that solving normal food problem was one of the most important services which any laboratory could render to India at this stage and he was glad that some of the work done in this Institute held great promise for future.

Dr. V. Subramanyam, Director welcomed the Minister.

Sri Kabir pointed out that that they were only five per cent short of grain and if it could be properly stored and better protected and better utilised, this five per cent shortage could easily be wiped out. He said that in our country there were many things which should be changed. Administrative procedure had to be changed and there was certain amount of duplication and unnecessary cross-references. These had to be streamlined and he hoped that they would be able to do something in this direction before long.

Prof. Kabir said that in the field of research certain amount of duplication was desirable. Our country, he said, had in past suffered very much and even now suffering from tendency of regarding certain people as a sort of high priests or 'Mahants'. Along with this duplication there should be a great deal of autonomy in the field of scientific research. He disclosed that he was considering from the last four months as to bow the areas of autonomy of the different laboratories might be increased. He hoped to make it easier for scientific researcher to carry on research individually and collectively. He said that in the future, scientific research would be increasingly a team effort. The success of a laboratory or of the CSIR depended on the team work and not on a high priest who gave orders.

Come Out From Ivory Towers

NEHRU'S APPEAL TO SCIENTISTS

Bangalore, Feb. 5

Prime Minister Nehru speaking at the Indian Institute of Science in connection with the golden jubilee celebrations yesterday said that "science has to be watched carefully and shaped in the proper direction. Otherwise it would misbehave and disastrous consequences might follow".

He said "Science has reached a pre-eminent position and has now become a formidable weapon either for good or for bad". He stated that shaping of science should be done in two ways. Firstly, they should see that their efforts and resources were not wasted. Secondly, Scientists themselves should give it a right direction because "in the ultimate analysis it is the scientists who made scienee and not Gcvernments".

He called upon the scientists in India not to live in ivory towers, but to see the picture of a vast number of people marching fast. He also stressed the need for translation of publications and extracts of science into Indian languages so that not only the country kept pace with the scientific progress abroad but also helped People to develop a scientific way of thinking.

Young Lovers Die In Well

18-year-old Lili of Madras could not bear to see her young lover humiliated by her elder sister. So she jumped into a well, half a furlong from her house.

Love for her blinded the lover--25--year-old Narasimhan of Nellore-to the consequences of his rash action. He dived into the well to rescue her. It was an old deep well.

Narasimhan and Lili fell in love a few months back. The parents of the girl did not relish this and they fixed up her marriage with some one else believing that to be the best course to adopt.

But the elder sister of the girl saw the young lovers together. She pulled Narasimhan away from Lili and gave him a thrashing. This was more than Lili could bear. She ran to the nearest well followed by her lover. Both were drowned.

To meet the situation, the rare engineering feet of lowering the track at three places, as much as 11 inches, was performed. Immediately after the passage of special trains, the track was restored to its normal position.

Kamaraj Rebukes NGOs

Sri Kamaraj, Chief Minister of Madras has strongly rebuked the non-gazetted officials for imitating the ways of politicians for achieving their demands and ventilating their grievances in an "irresponsible way.

Inaugurating the Tamilnad N.G.Os conference at Madras, Chief Minister Kamaraj said "It does you no good to be swept away by emotions. That is the way of politicians. Government is not my private business. If we feel we can do something for you, we will tell you so Your intention appears to be to get into the newspapers by making announcements. There is nobody in the country who does not have his measure of hardships. Derisive remarks intended to earn a little appaluse will reduce your conference to a tamash. For God's sake, let us not take it to that habit. If we are found wanting in running the Government, we will go home and take rest and you can run the administration."

Sri Kamaraj continuing said "I am satisfied that we have been able to do our best. There is no place in Government for management-labour tectics. Government is a joint responsibility of which yours is the major share. But it doesn't do you credit to blow your own trumpets. It ill becomes one to praise oneself. Greatness lies in somebody else praising you".

These strong rebuke arose due to the remarks of the President of the Union who said that the Government had not redressed thier grievances and the Government should remember that 60,000 NGOs would stop working overtime if only a mandate went from their Union.

P. M. DID NOT IMPOSE HIS WILL

Prime Minister Nehru has told the critics of the Congress Party's decisions on land reforms that it was "hardly fair or in consonance with facts" to suggest that he imposed his will on the party.

Addressing a press conference, he said the subject of ceilings on land holdings and co-operative farming had been discussed within the Party for years and the decision on the subject had not been suddenly sprung on the Nagpur Congress. "Now for anyone to suggest-I believe Rajaji has suggested-that I imposed this on others is hardly fair or not in consonance with facts."

The Prime Minister added that he had great regard for Rajaji but it had been his (Sri Nehru) misfortune to have disagreed with him over various matters during the last 25 or 30 years. He did not want to enter into an argument about personalities, especially of those like Rajaji. "Unfortunately, he is less than charitable in his judgments now-a-days"

Post-Secondary Technical Courses

TO END OVERCROWDING IN COLLEGES

MYSORE GOVERNOR'S PLEA

Sri Jayachamaraja Wadiyar, Governor of Mysore opined that the best way to avoid overcrowding in universities was to start institutions of post-secondary technical and occupational education.

He was delivering the convocation address of the Sri Venkateshwara University at Tirupathi, on Monday.

The Governor said that a grave situation had been created at the present day by the unreasoning scramble for admission into colleges and the blind preference for certain courses of study. Not all who sought entry into colleges were fit for university education. It was against the national interest to pay for the college education of those who would really do better for themselves and for society if they were directed into more suitable channels. This problem of overcrowding had to be tackled at many points. A powerful remedy for the present distemper would be to match the drive of secondary school expansion by a proportionate increase year by year, of institutions of post-secondary technical and occupational education. Such institutions could absorbe large number of those who now tend to overcrowd the science colleges.

The Governor suggested the idea of starting special institutions to train young men for ordinary official positions in Government departments, utility services, banks and business concerns. This scheme could be helped by Government and other employers as a rule entertaining such men in clerical posts without looking for holders of degrees.

He said that in the colleges themselve it was desirable to see that no one was admitted to a course to which he was not equal. The exclusion of the unfit was the first condition for preservation and improvement of standards.

As regards language medium in universities, the Governor observed that it appeared prudent to delay the change-over from English to regional or national language until our linguistic consolidation had proceeded further and our own languages had become more adequately equipped with the machinery of modern learning.

Affiliated Colleges Under U.G.C.

The University Grants Commission has now decided to include affiliated colleges within its perview and a list of colleges under the various universities has been drawn up for this purpose.

The Commission, in its second annual report, has stated that the problem of raising university standards could not be solved by concentrating efforts at the point of post-graduate study and research alone but it was also necessary to assist in the improvement of standards in the affiliated colleges.

The report also says that the Commission has given considerable thought to the problem of improving the conditions of service of the teachers of the affiliated colleges. It has prepared a scheme by which large funds would be made available by the Commission itself for the revision of scales of pay of teachers in such colleges on the basis of State Government-university colleges concerned sharing 50 per cent of the increased expenditure in the case of men's colleges and 25 per cent in the case of women's colleges.

Here it has appealed to the national leaders to take a serious view of the situation and assist the university authorities in bringing about a normal atmosphere.

RESIST "HASTY" LAND REFORMS

A .P. MINISTER'S CALL TO RYOTS

Andhra Pradesh Agricultural Minister, Sri Thimma Reddy has called upon the ryots to resist "hasty" land reforms in the country.

He stated at Chittoor that hasty and illconceived land reforms were proposed under the guise of improving agriculture and stepping up food production. He asked the ryots to resist all such attempts which aimed to distrub their age-long fundamental rights over landed possessions and thus impaired their sense of security. Unless they organised themselves effectively and made their voice felt in the counsels of the nation directly without any intermediary agency to represent them, there was no hope for the country.

It might look odd for them, he said, to hear a Minister say such things, but the fact was that although most of the Andhra legislators and Ministers were themselves ryots drawn from the villages, they were powerless to stem the surging tide of reactionary forces generated in the country by the combined efforts of wooden bureaucratic officialdom on the one side and the non-agricultural vested interests who had no stakes in land on the other. This kind of bureaucratic democracy must be pulled down and a real rural democracy built up.

It was upto ryots themselves, the Minister said, to organise an united front to have direct dealings with Government brushing aside the various "political purohits" who had now spring up in villages. A speedy evolution, but not a sudden revolution was what was needed in the country to change its economic face.

DISHONESTY & ABUSE OF POWER

The High Power Committee appointed by the Punjab Government to probe into the construction of Bhakra Canals and excess expenditure had stated in its report that the bulk of the excess expenditure concerned earth work and there had been considerable abuse of powers of local purchase. Dishonesty and neglect had been both contributed to these excesses.

The Committee has observed that individual officers have at times acted dishonestly, though no doubt, that opportunity and dishonesty were mostly occasioned by injudicious planning and insufficient supervision. None of these matters however, need obscure the outstanding fact, that a great deal of hard work, a great deal of initiative and and great deal of courage have gone to make for the successful accomplishment of this big project.

Protect Cattle Wealth

UNION MINISTER'S APPEAL

Bangalore, Feb. 23

Declaring open the 17th All-India Cattle Show here yesterday, Sri Lal Bahadur Sastry, Union Industries Minister stressed the need for the preservation of cattle wealth in the country as "better animal husbandry will mean better agriculture and better agriculture will mean better trade and better industry".

The Union Minister regretted that in the search for more and more power "we tend to forget that the bullock is still the greatest source of motive power in India today". The task of upgrading livestock was very difficult one: Still under the Second Five-Year Plan, a number of cattle development schemes costing Rs. 5 to 6 crores were operating in the various parts of the country. He was glad that cross-breeding was encouraged by the Mysore Government and said that these animals were giving 30 to 60 pounds of milk per day. It was really a remarkable achievement, he added. In seeking to improve the cattle wealth they should also realise the difficulties of farmers. The cultivator loved their animals like their own children but he lacked the necessary means to maintain it in a better standard. So it was necessary that Government should come to the aid of the farmers in this regard.

The Union Deputy Agriculture Minister Krishnappa welcoming said that nearly 1000 cattle, 100 poultry and 60 sheep had entered the Show. In this show, cash prizes to the tune of Rs. 25,000 would be given, besides trophies and cups worth over Rs. 1 lakh.

Sri Krishnappa said that India had 20 crore heads of cattle, which accounted for one-fourth of the cattle population of the world but the milk production in this country was lowest in the world.

Child's Heart Run On Battery

A seven-year-old girl in London had her heart stimulated for several days by electrodes sewn into it and connected to a battery operated pacemaker. The pacemaker is a small portable instrument measuring only 10 inches.

The operation was to close a ventricular spetal defect. The defect was closed, but later there was a complete heart block. Bared ends of two electrodes were then sewn into the right ventricle, and a third electrode was implanted in muscle of the heart.

All three leads, each consisting of two feet lengths of plastic covered fine wire, were brought out through separate small incisions. Later the electrodes were connected to the artifical pacemaker and the voltage set so that the heart's beats would follow the machine.

From the 11th day there was no further use for the pacemaker and the machine's leads were removed. When the leads were removed, she began to get up and was discharged from the hospital a month after the operation.

NO FUTURE FOR INDIA WITHOUT SCIENCE

Prime Minister Nehru speaking on "India Today and Tomorrow" in the "Azad Memorial Lecture" at Delhi, stated that there was no future for India without science and technology but "that future will be shallow and empty and without any real meaning if we ignore or forget our past".

He said India must look to the future and work for it purposively and with faith and vigour. At the same time she must keep her past inheritance and derive sustenance from it.

"We cannot be untrue to science", said Sri Nehru, "because that represents the basic fact of life today. Still less can we be untrue to those essential principles for which India has stood in the past throughout the ages".

"Let us then pursue our path to industrial progress with all our strength and vigour, and, at the same time remember the material riches without toleration and compassion and wisdom may well turn to dust and ashes", he added.

PROCUREMENT PRICE OF RICE

The Lok Sabha was told by the Deputy Food Minister Thomas that there was no justification for an increase in the procurement price of rice fixed for the States.

He said that the procurement price of rice fixed for 1958 59, a year of bumper rice crop, was the same as in 1957-58, abnormal and lean year and a year of drought and other calamities. Therefore, there was no justification for an increase now. If anything there was a case for reduction. But Government did not reduce the price and on the other hand, it had fixed the price favourably to the producer.

★Railway Minister Jagjivan Ram told the Lok Sabha that there was no proposal to retrench any railway employee. But the casual workers would be dispensed when a project was completed.

Gandhiji Was Against Partition

LOHIA'S DICLOSURE

Socialist leader Ram Manohar Lohia revealed yesterday that Mahatma Gandhi, two socialists including himself and Khan Abdul Gaffar Khan were the only ones to oppose partition of India, at the meeting of the Working Committee which accepted division of the country.

The Socialist leader also disclosed that Mahatma Gandhi had made a last-minute effort to save the unity of the country. This proposal "so far as I know has not been made public". After mildly complaining that he (Gandhiji) had not been informed, of the British plan of partition before Sri Nehru and Sardar Patel had committed themselves to it Mahatma Gandhi offered a way out which would honoured the commitments of these leaders and, at the same time, saved the unity of the country. Gandhiji wanted the Congress to accept the principle of partition and then tell the Viceroy that the actual division would be carried out jointly by the Congress and the Muslim League without British intervention. If this proposal had been accepted, he said, partition would not have come, but he added, the Congress Working Committee just did not discuss this proposal.

JUDGES APPOINTED ON COMMUNAL & REGIONAL BASIS

LAW COMMISSION'S CRITICISM

The Law Commission in its report has strongly criticised on the appointment of judges of High Courts and the Supreme Court on communal and regional and other considerations.

The Commission has said that in the High Courts "unsatisfactory appointments, made on political, communal and regional or other grounds, have resulted in the diminution of the out-turn of work and contributes to arrears". It has also said that in the Supreme Court too "the best talent among the judges of the HighCourts has not always found its way in thisCourt. It is widely felt that communal and regional considerations and executive influence (exerted from the highest quarters) have been responsible for some appointments".

The Commission has recommended the setting up a Central Ministry of Justice, vesting the Centre with a greater measure of control over the States in the administration of justice and the creation of an all-India Judicial Service.

It has also suggested several changes in the Constitution relating to the judiciary and also in the procedure of Civil and Criminal justice.

It has recommended the setting up of a special Tribunal to hear appeals against decisions of Labour Courts or vesting such powers in the High Courts, at the same time retaining the Supreme Court's special jurisdiction.

The Commission has also suggested the constitution of similar Tribunals at the Centre and States to hear appeals on facts against judicial and quasi judicial decisions of administrative tribunals with another appeal to High Courts on law.

The Commission appointed three and half years back submitted its report to the Parliament yesterday.

COMPULSORY LABOUR

The Congress Third Plan Committee which met yesterday at Delhi considered favourably a proposal to make it obligatory for every adult in a rural area to contribute 15 days' labour annually as part of a national campaign to create community assets such as schools, roads and hospitals.

The Committee regarded the above proposal as a method of solving the unemployment problem in the Third Plan period, when opportunities have to be provided for above 23 million persons. The Committee opined that since an effort of this magnitude could not be made in terms of financial resources, alternative methods, such as paying below-market wages or supply of minimum necessities of life like food and clothing as payment of work should be explored.

Pay Disparities Between Centre & State

GOVERNOR PLEADS FOR REDUCTION

Bangalore, Mar. 2

Governor Jayachamaraja Wadiyar addressing the joint session of the State Legislature on Saturday, pleaded for reduction of disparities in the pay scales between the Centre and the States. He hoped that the Central Pay Commission in making its suggestions for revision of pay scales would bear in mind that "Government servants, whether of a State or of the Centre, are all paid ultimately by the tax-payer". He also pointed out the State Government in its memorandum had stressed the paramount need for reducing the disparity of pay scales.

The Governor referring to education, stated that the Government had assumed full responsibility for providing primary education throughout the State. In order to provide primary education to all school-going children near their homes, it is necessary to start about 2,200 schools in school-less villages

They hope to establish all these schools by 1961-62. In the current year, 600 schools will be started and equal number in the next year. With this responsibility, it is felt that the establishment of new high schools should be the responsibility of private agencies who will be assisted by grants-in-aid from Government.

It is proposed to expand industrial and vocational training facilities in the coming year by providing another 476 seats. REFRAIN FROM DOUBLE-DEALING AND DISHONESTY

I.G.P. HOSALI'S WARNING TO POLICE OFFICERS

Mysore, Mar. 3

Sri D.N. Hosali, Inspector-General of Police today warned the police officials in the State against double-dealing and dishonesty.

He was taking the salute at the passing-out parade of probationary police Sub-Inspectors of the Police Training College, here at P.T.C. Parade grounds, this morning.

After the parade, the I.G.-of Police addressing the police force stated that it was accepted fact that the Sub Inspectors constituted the back-bone of the service and they were the officers who came in direct contact with the masses. He advised them that in dealing with the public, not to fall under the obligation and got mixed up with either political or social groups, Above all, "do not indulge in any unhealthy or immoral activities. The best guide is your conscience".

Sri Hosali said that "several instances of dilatoriness, double-dealing and dishonesty have come to my notice during the past 2½ months. These are rather disheartening feature particularly when I find officers taking recourse to political pressures to achieve their personal ends. In a disciplined force, there is no other word for this sort of tendency except treachery. Senior officers of the force look to you to change this tendency and adhere to a moral and ethical code which is in consonance with the disciplined tenets of police administration. Those who disregard this warning may find elation in their temporary success but take it from me that such persons are saboteurs who not only bring disgrace to the police force but lower the tone of the administration. Beware of such activities and refrain from them".

Spurt In Some Excise Goods Unwarranted

The sudden increases in prices of some commodities, after the 1959-60 budget, were not warranted by the actual incidence of various increases in excise duties suggested by the Union Finance Minister, according to an official spokesman of the Union finance Ministry.

In the case of cigarettes, he said, the incidence on a packet of ten Captstan cigarettes was only 3.6 nP while in the case of Charminar it was 0.5 nP.

In the case of vegetable products, on a tin of ten pounds, the incidence was only 15.6 nP.

As regards art silk fabrics, taking the total incidence of the increased excise both on the yarn and the fabric, the incidence on a five yard saree of 45-inch width was 34.25 nP.

The incidence of the increases on high speed diesel oils was also very small. In the case of trucks, assuming 16 miles per imperial gallon. the incidence of duty per ten-mile worked out only to 0.34 nP. In the case of a passenger bus with a capacity of 40 passengers and 18 miles per imperial gallon, the incidence per mile was only 0.055 nP.
